AFGC PROCEDURE
COPYRIGHT LAW

Infringement of Copyright Law occurs when an image is reproduced without the written permission of a photographer. The image remains the property of the photographer even though it may have been purchased from the photographer or other source.

Our newsletters, publications, websites, etc. may not include any pictures or items which have not previously been cleared for publication by the author or photographer. All of these items are protected by Copyright Law and AFGC members need to adhere to the law in all published materials.
